SEARLE SERVICES

It is our policy to give the utmost attention to pre-delivery inspection and testing and also to offer comprehensive after sales service to our customers.

Every vehicle conversion which leaves our works is inspected and tested at every stage of manufacture and finally, the engine and chassis has to pass a thorough pre-delivery road test.

We recommend that all vehicles are returned to us for their first free service and wherever possible for their critical 4000-mile service.

We strongly advise that every new vehicle should be undersealed before used on the road, the method we use being the Carseal process, which produces a homogeneous coating highly resistant to corrosion, abrasion and salt spray—the cost, when carried out on a new vehicle, is included in our extras list.

Used vehicles are also carefully checked and any rectification or replacement considered necessary is carried out before delivery.

SEARLE GUARANTEE

We guarantee all our conversions against faulty materials and workmanship, and in the unlikely event of any rectification being necessary, it is carried out with top priority and, of course, entirely free of charge.
